Special Use Permit Process

The special use permit process allows you to request a use that generally has a unique, special, or unusual impact on surrounding properties beyond those uses normally included as permitted within any one zoning district. Approval is based on demonstration of meeting the standards or conditions outlined in Chapter 62, Section 791-818 of the Village Code (Zoning, Special Use Permits and Amendments). The Planning and Zoning Commission conducts the public hearing and makes a recommendation to the Village Board, who has the final authority to grant or deny the request. The special use permit process from start to finish takes approximately 2-3 months, so please plan accordingly.

1. Complete the application and supporting materials. Use the Submittal Checklist, as any incomplete applications can delay the process.
2. Submit the completed application materials with the application fee. You will be assigned a case number and hearing date upon review by Village staff.
3. Provide public notice 15 to 30 days prior to the assigned hearing date. The applicant must provide notice to property owners located within 250 feet of the subject property, either by mail or in person. Sample notices are enclosed in the application packet. Staff will provide a sign for the property and publish legal notice in the Brookfield Landmark.
4. File the notarized Affidavit of Public Notice at Village Hall prior to the date of the hearing. This certifies that proper notice was given to property owners within 250' of the subject property. The hearing may be continued to a future date if the affidavit is not filed prior to the date of the scheduled hearing.
5. Present your case during the Planning and Zoning Commission hearing. Be prepared to answer any questions about the request from Board members or members of the public.
6. After the Planning and Zoning Commission makes a recommendation to the Village Board, staff will forward the recommendation to the Village Board to be reviewed and discussed at a Committee of the Whole meeting and subsequently voted on at the next Village Board meeting.
